

Teaching Orienteering Part 2

Who should attend Teaching Orienteering Part 2?

The training is aimed at teachers, youth sector workers and people working in schools and outdoor centres. The training delivers the knowledge, understanding and practical ability to teach some of the advanced skills of orienteering. Anyone over the age of 16 may attend the course however the Orienteering Young Leader Award suitable for 14 – 19 year olds may better meet young people's needs. People wishing to deliver GCSE syllabuses for students in England, Wales and Northern Ireland should attend Teaching Orienteering Part 2. Candidates from Scotland will be shown the appropriate activities to meet their own curriculum requirements.

Are there prerequisites?

Candidates must be over 16 years of age and have attended the Teaching Orienteering Part 1 course or former British Orienteering Level 1 course

What is a person who has attended a Teaching Orienteering Part 2 trained to do?

Introduce the skills of orienteering, specified below, to children or adults in a fun and exciting way on small areas with clear boundaries that have been risk assessed as safe. You will also be able to deliver a range of orienteering competitions.

What does Teaching Orienteering Part 2 training involve?

On the course you will be given the knowledge you require to introduce the advanced skills of orienteering identified below and have the opportunity to discuss and practice using this knowledge. The course is 6 hours and practical in nature, you will be expected to join in with group discussions and activities.

What are the learning outcomes of the training?

- Develop orienteering skills on small areas with clear boundaries that have been risk assessed as safe for the level of participants involved
- Use your previous knowledge of planning learning programmes to plan programmes that include use of compass, scale, distance understanding, basic contours and the techniques required for the relevant external school examination
- Deliver orienteering sessions that achieve the outcomes of the learning programmes
- Organise and deliver a range of orienteering competitions

Is there assessment – if so what form does it take?

Candidates are not assessed; following the training candidates will receive a certificate of attendance. Candidates wishing to gain a formal, assessed qualification should talk to a tutor to identify the most appropriate route for them to take to gain an assessed qualification.

How do I find and attend a Teaching Orienteering Part 2 Course?

A list of Teaching Orienteering Part 2 Courses can be found on the Training Courses page; you can also register and book online via this page.